

General

1) Who is Bill Trade platform for?

Bill Trade is a social trading platform, where you can copy the trades of successful traders.

Bill Trade platform is designed for four types of users:

Investor (copier) can in a few clicks divide funds between traders, allotting to each of the traders a different percent of the portfolio, diversifying risks.

Trader Fund/Manager broadcasts signals and gets % of the profit received by an investor through copying.

Algo trader/ Robot is a bot created to complete simple processes, maintaining public or private automatic statistics, and, if needed, gaining added revenue from copying signals.

Analysts is a skilled investor who creates portfolios of traders (His own copying strategy), and gains added profit from re-transmitting received signals which a copier (investor) can copy.

2) What trading services does Bill Trade offer?

With the help of our platform, users obtain:

- The ability to follow any successful trader as an investor and copy their.
- The ability to analyze and select traders to copy as an analyst.
- The opportunity to become a trader by providing signals to investors.
- The ability to connect and broadcast trading bots and strategies (algorithmic trading).
- The ability to attract followers and expand the community of referrals (referral program).

3) Do I need to transfer my funds to the platform (make a deposit to Bill Trade) to follow traders?

No. You can trade and monitor traders using our platform by connecting the exchange key API.

4) How do we rank traders?

We have developed our own most fair and transparent ranking of traders, which includes such criteria :

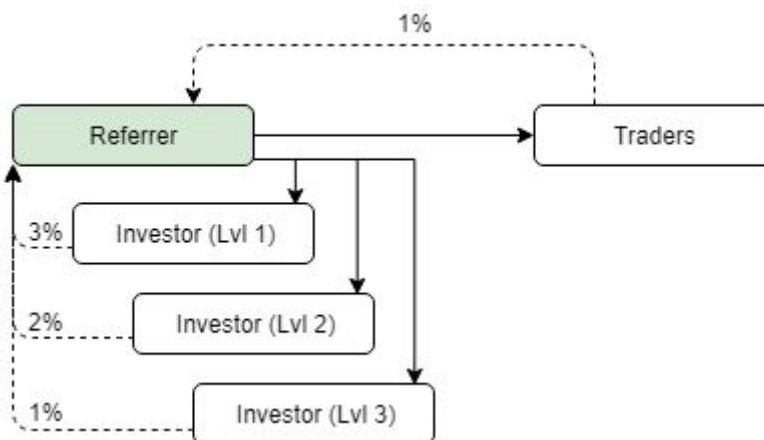

- Profit factor
- Amount of funds provided by investors
- Trader's deposit size
- Profit/loss ratio
- Maximum stated drawdown
- Any violation/rejection by a trader
- % of the trader's profitability
- Period on the Bill Trade platform

5) What are the bonuses for customers?

Various contests and promotions are constantly held on the platform for both traders and clients, relevant events you can see in our social networks, as well as on the company's website.

We also have a multi-level referral program for all types of users.

Invite a friend to join Bill Trade and get 3% of his profit, which he receives on BillTrade as an investor. If he invites a friend, you will receive 2% of the profit of his friend. If the latter invites another friend, then you will receive 1% of his profit. If a trader joins Bill Trade through your referral link, you will receive 1% of his profit.

6) How does Bill Trade test traders?

All traders are automatically selected based on statistics of completed trades. And all his results are displayed on a chart, where you can see the yield curve for any desired period on our platform.

Investor (Copier)

1) How do I start following traders?

Register an account. You need to go to your personal account settings and connect the exchange you are trading on via the API key. Then, in the trader's section, select one or more traders, and follow the instructions to start auto-copying trades.

2) What is the difference between a trader and a trading strategy (trading bot)?

When you follow a trader, you copy his trades, when you follow a bot, the trades are made according to a specific algorithm (strategy) defined and set by a signalist.

3) What profit will I get following the selected trader or trading strategy?

The potential income of an investor is floating and depends on the strategies and trades of traders. An investor receives 50% of the profits the trader or trading system makes with his assets.

4) What are trader filters for?

Filters are necessary for the most accurate selection of a trader or a strategy according to your risk management and preferences.

5) Is there a minimum deposit threshold for copying?

The minimum deposit depends on the trading conditions provided by a trader. Usually, it starts from $100 (Eq. BTC, ETH, USDT)

6) When and how often shall I pay a fee for following?

An investor pays a fee with a frequency specified by the platform (daily, weekly, monthly).

7) What should I do if I got a loss when I copied a trader? Do I need to pay something to continue copying this trader?

In case of loss, no fee is charged. A trader will receive income only when an investor has a profit from copying his trades. You only need to share the profit a trader made with your funds. If there is no profit, you don't have to pay for anything.

8) Do I need to deposit funds?

No. You can use your exchange or non-exchange wallet to copy traders.

9) How do I “follow” someone?

When you start following someone, you get instant notification about each trade or signal a trader or analyst make. You check payment details and confirm the transaction.

10) What are the Advanced Filters?

Using advanced filters, you can find new potential traders to follow, based on your personal preferences.

Trader

1) How to become a trader and start getting copied by investors?

Register an account. Connect the exchange you are trading on with the API key and specify the trading options:

Public - trading is available to everyone;

Private - trade for your community without going public.

Start trading and get ranked to be available for copying.

2) What reward does a trader receive for providing signals to copiers?

25% of profit your copiers make and 22.5% if you are copied via the portfolio of an analyst.

3) What is the minimum deposit to broadcast signals and get followers?

There is no limit. However, a trader's deposit size affects your rate. You can improve it with positive trading statistics (learn more).

4) Why are my trades not being copied?

No investor got interested in your trades. Try increasing deposits and improving your rating.

5) How to increase a trader's rating?

After joining as a trader, the platform automatically calculates the factors affecting the trader's rating:

- Profit factor
- Amount of funds provided by investors
- Trader's deposit size
- Profit/loss ratio
- Maximum stated drawdown
- Any violation/rejection by a trader
- % of the trader's profitability
- Period on the Bill Trade platform

Analyst

1) How to become an analyst?

When registering, choose the public status for followers. In this case, other users will see your status and will be able to follow you. (The publicity status can always be changed in the personal account settings).

2) What kind of reward does an analyst receive?

An analyst gets % of a trader's profit.

3) Can I be an analyst and a trader at the same time?

Yes, this option is possible, in the account settings you should specify the publicity of both a follower and a trader.

4) How is the profit calculated if an analyst is also a trader?

The calculation takes place in a standard way, you get 25% of the investor's profit you made with his assets, as well as a % (indicated by the trader for analysts) for the retranslation of signals as an analyst.